Architectural Survey File

This is the architectural survey file for this MIHP record. The survey file is organized reverse-chronological (that is, with the latest material on top). It contains all MIHP inventory forms, National Register nomination forms, determinations of eligibility (DOE) forms, and accompanying documentation such as photographs and maps.

Users should be aware that additional undigitized material about this property may be found in on-site architectural reports, copies of HABS/HAER or other documentation, drawings, and the “vertical files” at the MHT Library in Crownsville. The vertical files may include newspaper clippings, field notes, draft versions of forms and architectural reports, photographs, maps, and drawings. Researchers who need a thorough understanding of this property should plan to visit the MHT Library as part of their research project; look at the MHT web site (mht.maryland.gov) for details about how to make an appointment.

All material is property of the Maryland Historical Trust.

Govans Manor is an 11-story high rise building located in the Radnor-Winston neighborhood in north Baltimore.

Designed by Baltimore-based architecture firm Smeallie, Orrick and Janka, Ltd., the building was completed in 1974. Constructed as a turnkey development, owned and operated by the Housing Authority of Baltimore City, this public housing development has been subject to a number of comprehensive modernizations, known as "comp mods." This includes an energy management/ weatherization comp mod as the most significant within the last 10 years. Additionally, in 2011, the exterior brick of the structure underwent repairs due to spalling of the masonry. The interiors of the building are continuously renovated and updated as a condition of the building's revolving tenancy.

There are a total of 191 apartments consisting of efficiency and one-bedroom units. Eight (8) of the units are fully Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS) compliant. On site amenities consist of a built-in grill, fenced in community garden, arts & crafts room, computer lounge, community room, common area laundry and kitchen.

The building is constructed of a concrete frame with red colored brick infill panels and a built up flat roof. The façade is broken up by horizontal beige concrete bands at each floor level, and vertical concrete walls that give the appearance of buttresses and shear walls. The concrete walls hold the balconies, which have metal railings with stucco panels, and the balconies give the appearance of stacked, floating boxes. The window and doors are anodized aluminum, a majority of which are located on the balconies and do not puncture the facade. On the interior, the layout is a standard double-loaded corridor and generic finishes.

Justification:

The property does not meet the National Register Criteria A; there are no known events associated to the property. The property does not meet the National Register Criteria B; there are no known persons of significance associated with the property. The

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Govans Manor is an eleven story, multi-bayed apartment building for the elderly. It contains 199 units, all with extra-wide doors to accommodate wheel chairs and mobile beds. Many other special features were installed for the convenience of the elderly.

The eclectic styling of the building shows signs of Brutalistic and Miesian styles, two contemporary types of architecture. The weight and massiveness of the building, and the treatment of the ribbon windows as holes or voids in the wall rather than as continuations of the "skin" are Brutalistic features. The outlines of the individual building parts, created by the concrete block beams set in stretcher bond brick, and the ground story wall setting behind outer piers are Miesian features. Balconettes project at various intervals in the front and rear facades, and in a more regimented fashion in the longer side facades.

Govans Manor fronts the busy York Road commercial corridor.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Govans Manor, the tallest building in Govans, is an atypical building in the area. It becomes a strong landmark for the surrounding community merely because of its size.

Its contemporary architecture reflects the growing use of the York Road corridor in Govans as an area for new office and rental residential development. The building was developed by Bollinger and DeLuca at a cost of $4,600,000.
