Project Details:

Phase I

Phase II

Phase III

Project Justification:

This report presents the results of Phase II archeological evaluations at Site 18AN1095, Anne Arundel County, Maryland. The site was first identified in 1998 during a Phase I survey for the proposed Dorchester Subdivision Project, adjacent to the Arundel Mills commercial development. The Phase I and Phase II studies were undertaken on behalf of the developer in compliance with Federal and State historic preservation laws because of anticipated US Army Corps of Engineers wetland permits. In addition, Anne Arundel County subdivision regulations require consideration for historic and archeological resources as part of the project planning and review process.

Project Objectives:

- Determine the nature, age, and function of the archeological resource.
- Determine the horizontal and vertical boundaries of the resource.
- Assess the integrity and information potential of the resource.

Research Potential:

Site 18AN1095 does not retain sufficient stratigraphic integrity to provide detailed data relevant to the function or structuring of the occupation. No further archeological investigations are recommended or warranted at this site.
